

ProduXion Manager®

Powered by:  Aries systems.

Aries Systems' ProduXion Manager® (PM) is the leading cloud-based production tracking system for scholarly journals, reference works, books, and other publications.

Streamlined Production Experience

ProduXion Manager® (PM) is a highly-configurable workflow management system optimized to streamline production processes, communications with internal and external stakeholders, and management of metadata and files. Supporting all publication models with issue and article-based workflows, PM offers content creators a flexible and efficient production experience following manuscript acceptance.

Every User Plays a Role

Operating as a role-based system, PM allows publishers to easily manage user permissions by configuring roles for Editors-In-Chief, Managing Editors, Editorial Assistants, Authors, Corresponding Authors, System Administrators, external vendors and freelancers, and more!

Authors

- Easily create Author proofs
- Perform status updates

Editors

- Assign and track tasks
- Communicate with external vendors
- Review and approve proofs

External Vendors

- Receive and complete production tasks

Flexible Workflow

ProduXion Manager empowers thousands of publications to uniquely configure their workflows at any time, allowing permissioned System Administrators to make changes as business policies and preferences evolve at no additional cost.

Ecosystem of Tools

Aries' strategic in-house innovations and partner integrations connect industry-leading technology with ProDuXion Manager, providing publishers with best-in-class tools, all in one place. Our expansive ecosystem includes quality check tools, manuscript evaluation services, metadata standards, payment processing tools, and more!

Robust Reporting Suite

ProDuXion Manager's built-in Enterprise Analytics Reporting (EAR) suite provides publishers with visibility into important publication data for performance tracking and informed decision making. Cross-publication reporting (X-EAR) can be enabled for publishers with expansive journal portfolios.

End-To-End Solution

PM seamlessly connects with upstream editorial systems to provide a comprehensive workflow solution from manuscript submission and beyond. Achieve a true end-to-end publishing experience by pairing ProDuXion Manager with Aries' EditorialManager®.
